- harassing others is never okay, no matter how much you make out the situation to seem like they gave you consent to harass them.
- trans people reserve the right to be called the pronouns of the gender they wish to transition to/have transitioned to, not their birth pronouns
- please don't crush on lesbians if you're a guy and you know the person is a lesbian. it actually makes lesbians really uncomfortable.
- same goes for crushing on known gay men if you're a girl.
- mental disorders aren't something to be celebrated.
- homophobia, transphobia, cisphobia, aphobia, racism, and islamophobia is never justified if you know what you're doing could be considered to be acting on these things. period.
- bullying isn't good either and i think we all know that.
- hate the character, not the person, in an RP or forumfic.
- don't discuss something or use a certain term if someone isn't comfortable with it.
- don't bug forumfic writers to write in your character. it actually makes the production a lot slower and chips away their motivation to write the story itself.
- if you have a mental problem, please, seek help. if you can't, that's alright; but if you just openly embrace it, you should really seek help. things like being attracted to minors when you're an adult is not "normal", having the urge to control and be narcissistic is not "natural" and while some of those things are decided by genetic and environmental factors it still doesn't make it okay.
- making fun of someone because of one little thing about them is never okay.
- there's a big difference between laughing with someone and laughing at them. don't do the latter.
- practice what you preach the best you can. it's okay to slip up once or twice on accident.

sorry i've been kind of frustrated lately and i just felt the need to put this out i'd appreciate if you guys only bumped this post or had something positive to add? i don't want to be responsible for any flame wars and i only wish to spread positivity. this is not directed at anyone, nor is it intended to hurt anyone; these are just some things i wanted to share.

I think mental illnesses should be understood and you shouldn't be "ashamed" for having it (as in, don't feel bad for something you can't control) but you shouldn't use it as an excuse.

Don't pressure a story or forumfic writer about when the next update will come. They work very hard and pressuring them with the thought of "I have to get this out soon or else!!!!" or something along those lines. The writers will get the story out quick as they can. You have to trust that they haven't stopped the story, but only writing, editing, and revising.

- Don't pressure a forumfic/story writer to add your character in, don't harass them for killing your character off, don't ask if it's dead if it hasn't been posted on in a while, and don't ask for a ship repeatedly!! those three things have made me so nervous and feel awful when i write and i know some writers feel the same. All of these things make the author feel worse and unmotivated to write and that's not good D:

Yes, just yes.

Up, this needs to be bumped.

~~Oof, "bumped" got changed to "honored", which fits, but it's not what I was trying to write.~~
